

Back from break!

Students are returning from winter break, and they are excited. After being sent home to do virtual learning, and having winter break in the middle of it, students are excited to return to learning in person. As one student said "Man, this whole online stuff sucks. "

You will be missed

No, he did not die, but our favorite vice principle Mr. Fitz has moved to a different place. Know for his genuine concern for students, he holds a spot of love in all our hearts.
